Income deductions for National Pension premiums

*This system applies to people paying National Pension premiums.

When making year-end adjustments or filing tax returns, the entire amount paid this year for the National Pension Insurance premiums can be deducted from the income calculation and declared. Doing so may result in lower taxes.

When you file your income tax return, you must submit documents proving the National Pension Insurance premiums you paid between January 1, 2025 and December 31, 2025.

From the latter half of October to the beginning of November, Japan Pension Service will send you a "Deduction Certificate for Social Insurance Premiums (National Pension Insurance Premiums)," which will serve as proof of the amount you paid. The certification includes the national pension premiums paid between January 1 and September 30, 2025, and the amount expected to be paid during the year. In addition, those who pay insurance premiums for the first time between October 1 and December 31 will receive a "Deduction Certificate for Social Insurance Premiums (National Pension Insurance Premiums)" around February 2026.

When declaring income, please submit the Deduction Certificate for Social Insurance Premiums (National Pension Insurance Premiums) or a receipt.

In addition, those who have registered in advance on "Nenkin Net" to request electronic mailing should check "Nenkin Net."

*If you want to use the certificate of premiums paid for two years together separately for the yearly return, please see the Japan Pension Service website or ask the pension office.
